As a run-up to FANGORIA’s free screening of the box-office smash INSIDIOUS on Monday, July 11 at Los Angeles’ Silent Movie Theater , hosted by director James Wan and screenwriter Leigh Whannell, see below for a rerun of our exclusive two-part video interview with Whannell, who talks with Fango’s Tony Timpone about INSIDIOUS’ plot and the development of the script.

Fango’s July 11 INSIDIOUS LA event starts at 7:30 p.m., and the film’s creative team will participate in a Q&A after the screening moderated by Fango contributor/filmmaker Anthony C. Ferrante (BOO, HEADLESS HORSEMAN). And for the first time for FANGORIA fans, the Q&A portion of the event will be streamed live over the web on Facebook and Fangoria.com. Plus fans can send in their questions in advance via Facebook and Twitter using #INSIDIOUSLIVE.

Our INSIDIOUS screening will be a free show; to obtain tickets, send an e-mail to fangoriascreening@gmail.com. You must list “INSIDIOUS” as your subject line. Offer is good for you and one guest. Plus tell us your full name and whether you want to be added to the FANGORIA newsletter list so we can inform you about future Fango screenings and events. Names will be checked at the door. Offer is first come, first served, and we will confirm your RSVP. Seating is not guaranteed, however, so arrive early. This special show is sponsored by Sony Pictures Home Entertainment, who releases INSIDIOUS on DVD and Blu-ray July 12.
