Director Joshua Grannell sent along the sixth teaser poster for his horror/comedy ALL ABOUT EVIL, which happily showcases his Peaches Christ alter ego, whom he describes as a “midnight movie maven and underground drag superstar.” See it after the jump.

“Ms. Christ actually plays herself in the movie,” Grannell continues, “and while she wasn’t the easiest actress to work with, I’m glad she’s in the movie. She has even agreed to help with the unique way we plan to present the film to audiences everywhere.”

EVIL, which stars Natasha Lyonne, Noah Segan of DEADGIRL and CABIN FEVER 2 and Cassandra “Elvira” Peterson, focuses on Deborah Tennis (Lyonne), a librarian who inherits her father’s old and failing movie house. To save the place, she begins showing her own films for the gorehound audiences—productions in which the murders and victims are a tad too real.

Grannell also announced ALL ABOUT EVIL’S world premiere, which will take place Saturday, May 1 at 10:45 p.m. at the Castro Theater in San Francisco, CA. Presented by the San Francisco International Film Festival, the screening will feature a full stage show hosted by Peaches and include performances by the whole cast, and will launch the movie’s event-based cross-country theatrical release.

You can grab tickets for the premiere at the San Francisco Film Society’s official website , see ALL ABOUT EVIL’s official website
here
and read Sean Abley’s two-part Gay of the Dead blog/interview with Grannell
here
and
here
.

{jcomments on}