Written by Samuel Zimmerman
Monday, 23 April 2012 16:55

Take a look at fresh artwork for found footage AREA 407, creature feature love story JACK AND DIANE and the upcoming Jennifer Lawrence thriller below.

Currently bowing at the Tribeca Film Festival, Bradley Gray's look at savage love, JACK AND DIANE stars Juno Temple and Riley Keough as the titular Jack and Diane, "two teenage girls, who meet on a summer day in New York City and spend the night kissing ferociously. Bubbly and naïve, Diane's charming innocence quickly begins to open tomboy Jack's tough skinned heart. But when Jack discovers that Diane is moving at the end of the summer, she pushes her away. Diane is overwhelmed by her powerful new feelings, and they begin to manifest themselves in terrifying ways, causing unexplainable violent changes to her body. Young love is a monster – can Jack and Diane survive?"

Magnolia Pictures releases the film to VOD September 28 and in limited theatrical release November 2.

Meanwhile, hitting in just under a week is the found footage dinosaur horror AREA 407, which sees a plane go down in a government facility housing what looks to be some ferocious, prehistoric reptiles.

AREA 407 hits IFC On Demand, digital platforms and select theaters April 27.

Written by Samuel Zimmerman
Monday, 23 April 2012 16:55

here